

Hercules

IT'S YOUR TURN

IT'S YOUR TURN

For more than 30 years now, we've been putting our passion for music right at the heart of our innovations and the development of our audio solutions. From the first sound card for PC with up to 64 polyphonic channels that we designed, to the first portable mixing console featuring a built-in audio interface, our creativity has allowed Hercules to become a major player in the world of interactive entertainment.

Hercules completed a total brand refresh in 2018, offering even more innovative, higher-performance solutions for learning how to DJ — making it fun and easy for everyone to understand and master all of the techniques required for mixing.

More driven than ever by our goal of opening up DJing to everyone, we've specially designed a new range of controllers to help users get started learning how to DJ, and build their skills with total confidence. Our main motivation at Hercules is to empower people to train their ears to understand the rhythm and really become DJs. Our new controllers feature the BEATMATCH GUIDE (built-in helpful light guides) that shows users exactly what they need to do, making learning how to mix both easy and fun.

All this is possible thanks to our full-featured DJ software, designed for and included with Hercules controllers: DJUCED®. The latest version of DJUCED® features a new interface that's more intuitive than ever, with Hercules DJ Academy video tutorials built right in to help users learn the fundamentals of DJing and hone their skills.

At Hercules, we also believe that creativity is extremely important, and that it should be easy to select your music according to the mood you want to set for your party. With this in mind, we've developed the IMA (Intelligent Music Assistant) to suggest the best upcoming tracks for your mixes. It's perfect for all DJs — from beginners right through to professionals.
